Year 5 Science

In their Science lesson this week, year 5 have been learning about how we get day and night.

They each painted a model of the Earth and then, using a torch as the Sun, created the movement of Earth rotating on its axis.

They enjoyed exploring this concept practically. As they did this, they observed how one half of Earth is in the Sun's light, whilst the other half is in darkness.

One child said "Oh! So that's why when it's daytime here, it's night-time in Australia!"

Amazing science work, year 5!

Managing Anger with Children

Every year many thousands of children are referred to Childline for anger issues. Anger management in children is one of the top mental health concerns in childcare. Anger and the ability to control it are key skills of adulthood.

Children must learn to overcome anger so that they do not fall foul of strict controls on violent conduct. However, this is difficult for children to learn to manage since anger is remarkably powerful.

As parents and teachers, we teach them to reign these emotions in. This can be hard knowledge to impart, but the NSPCC has produced helpful resources to support this.
