3. St Mary Magdalen's Curriculum intent

At this school, we have designed our curriculum with pupils' learning at the centre. We recognise that a curriculum has to be broad, balanced and offer pupils opportunities to grow as individuals as well as learners. Our school values the input of its pupils, parents and the local community with regards to the planning and delivery of the curriculum. We believe pupils get a well-rounded education if everyone is involved in shaping it.

Our curriculum centres around our Core values:

- Curiosity – giving opportunities to question the world, promoting independent thinking as well as communication skills through team work;
- Aspiration – engaging every child to push their own limitations;
- Respect – enabling a considerate attitude to others and our world;
- Responsibility – empowering everyone to have sense of importance in our world and to build with kindness and honesty in the future;

We aim to ensure pupils enjoy learning and feel prepared for life after school. We also intend to offer our pupils new and exciting experiences through extra-curricular activities that are designed to build resilience, confidence and self-esteem. Our curriculum will be delivered in accordance with the Equality Act 2010, through a variety of methods, including those outlined below.

Classroom-based learning: Accessing different learning resources and equipment to broaden pupils' knowledge, and making cross-curricular links where possible within lesson plans, so that pupils can draw upon knowledge from different subjects and understand how each topic plays a part in everyday life. Classroom teaching also includes one-to-one and small group tuition for pupils who require additional support.

A full list of the subjects available to our pupils can be found in section 6 of this policy.

Extra-curricular activities: We provide a variety of extra-curricular activities for pupils that enhance their learning experience, form personal connections with their peers, and teach skills essential for life after school.

4. School ethos and aims

The overall aims of the curriculum are to:

- Enable pupils to understand the skills and attributes needed to be a successful learner.

5. Organisation and planning

The school's curriculum will be delivered over 190 days and lessons will be separated into three core stages:

- Introduction to the topic, engagement and thinking time – this is the time where lesson objectives will be set.
- A main teaching event – this will vary day-to-day based on the teacher's plan.
- Plenary – this will summarise what pupils have learnt in the lesson and will address what will be covered in the next lesson.

Lessons will use a range of teaching techniques to appeal to different learning types, e.g. visual, audio and kinaesthetic.

The different learning techniques include:

- Using different kinds of questions to engage pupils and prompt them to apply their knowledge to different examples, e.g. using 'why' and 'how' questions.
- Opening discussions around topics so pupils can learn from their peers and learn how to hold conversations with others.
- Holding structured debates to expose pupils to different points of view and teach them how to negotiate situations where there is a potential conflict of interest, whilst still respecting others' beliefs.

- Role playing and acting to develop pupils' empathy and give them the opportunity to explore topics in a more interactive way.
- Labelling, ordering and identifying key themes within texts, dialogues and films to help pupils coordinate series' of events.
- Written and spoken tasks to encourage different methods of expressing ideas, as well as identifying key differences between writing and speaking conventions.
- Using assessments to test pupils' knowledge and consolidate learning; these can be through both informal and formal assessments.

Teachers will plan lessons which are challenging for all pupils and ensure that there are provisions in place for more academically able pupils. Lessons also accommodate for pupils of mixed ability, making cross-curricular links where possible.

Teachers will have due consideration for pupils who require additional help within their planning and organisation of lessons.
