

Harworth Church of England Academy

End of the week reflection

This week it has been wonderful to see the excitement across school as children explore our new sports equipment. They have been developing new skills, building confidence, and showing great resilience as they try something for the first time.

This spirit of perseverance links beautifully to Maya Angelou's words:

"God put rainbows in the clouds so that each of us, in the dreariest most dreadful moments, can see a possibility of hope."

This reminds us of the importance of hope, recognising that even when things feel challenging, there is always the possibility of success and growth. In living out our vision to 'gain a heart of wisdom', we encourage our children to learn from each experience and recognise these 'rainbow moments' as they grow.

Wishing all our families a wonderful weekend.
