

MERIDIAN COMMUNITY PRIMARY SCHOOL AND NURSERY

Learning for Life

Friday 11th July

Transition Day

Dear Parents and Carers

Today is an important day at school as the children are meeting their new teachers who will be teaching them in September.

The children will be finding out lots of new information and so you will be receiving several different letters today to share this information with you too so that you are able to support your child at home with managing these changes in a positive way.

Managing change

Managing change is something that we all have to do throughout our lives and everyone manages this in different ways.

The most important thing for all the children today is to ensure that they have had the chance to explore how they are feeling about the upcoming changes and we can support them with this in school and with your help at home.

The teachers have planned a really positive day with lots of opportunities for the children to ask questions and share their thoughts about next year and I am sure they will be keen to share with you everything that has taken place today.

Look out for the further letters as we will be sharing important information about plans for next year over the course of today.

If you have any questions, please do speak with your child's current class teacher.

Thank you for your continued support.

Kind regards

Claire Westcott
