

Autumn 2 News Letter 2023

Welcome back to everybody! We hope you had a super half term break and managed to get some quality time together. We are very much looking forward to the term ahead and all the exciting events leading up to Christmas! It has been a wonderful start to the year with all our new children settling well, including Reception. A big thank you to the children for the lovely Harvest Assembly, which made us all very proud and thank you for your generous donations for the Harvest collection, which were passed to the Lincoln Larder.

I am pleased to report that the residential with Year 5 and 6 went well and the children thoroughly enjoyed their Autumn experience. It is great for them to bond as a class and develop their confidence for the year ahead. Despite some rain, I think the majority of activities went ahead as planned. The School Council were also busy with their fundraising efforts and it was lovely to see the children enjoying the magic show at the entertainment evening, which raised £216. Thank you to you all for your support with this.

We have a wealth of activities in store for the next term to support the learning and prepare for the build up to Christmas. We will be raising awareness of bullying during this week and have invited a theatre company to come in and do some drama with the children to explain the effects of bullying and how to act if they find themselves vulnerable. Our rich PSHE curriculum also supports children with any difficulties they face in life and helps them to overcome those and ask for help. The Book Fair will be arriving on the 20th of November, so please look out for further details. We will also be celebrating Children in Need and children can come dressed in yellow or something spotty. This term will end with a visit to the pantomime and of course the Christmas Performances and parties.

With the weather looking to become colder, can I respectfully ask that children come into school appropriately dressed with coats, hats and gloves where necessary, so that they can enjoy their play time outside where possible. Should the weather turn very bad and force a school closure, I will follow the procedure of informing Lincs FM and of course posting on the school app and website. Can I assure you that school closures will be taken very seriously and will only happen when we do not have sufficient staff to be able to open the school or if our Meal Providers are unable to deliver hot school meals.
