We authorise these service providers to use personal data only as necessary to perform services on our behalf, or to comply with legal obligations if necessary.

12. Transferring Data Outside the UK

We do not routinely share data with organisations outside the UK .

We will not transfer personal data outside the UK unless such transfer complies with the UK GDPR. This means that we cannot transfer any personal data outside the UK unless:

- The Secretary of State has decided that another country or international organisation ensures an adequate level of protection for personal data.
- One of the derogations in the GDPR applies (including if an individual explicitly consents to the proposed transfer).

13. Data Security

Your Duty to Inform us of Changes

It is important that the personal information we hold about your child is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your child's personal information changes during their time with us.

Subject Access Requests (SAR)

Under data protection legislation, pupils have the right to request access to information about them that we hold. Personal data belongs to the data subject, and in the case of the personal data of a child regardless of their age the rights in relation to that personal data are theirs and not those of their parents. Parents, in most cases, do not have automatic rights to the personal data of their child.

However, there are circumstances where a parent can request the personal data of their child without requiring the consent of the child. This will depend on the maturity of the child and whether the School is confident that the child can understand their rights. Generally, in the UK, where a child is under 12 years of age, they are deemed not to be sufficiently mature as to understand their rights of access and a parent may request access to their personal data on their behalf. The School will then determine whether, in their opinion, the pupil is mature enough to understand their rights and act accordingly.

If you would like to make a SAR in relation to your child's personal data, it would be helpful if you made this in writing to the School, to include:

- your name and contact address
- name and year group of the pupil
- email address and telephone number
- details of the information you require.

A helpful 'Guide to Making A Subject Access Request' is available from the School office, or as a download from the School website. It is not mandatory to make a Subject Access Request using the form. It will, however, assist you in structuring your SAR to provide the information necessary to ensure we can action your request without delay.

Fulfilling A Subject Access Request

The legal time frame for the School to respond to a Subject Access Request is one calendar month from receipt of a 'valid' SAR.

A SAR is only considered 'valid' when we are fully satisfied regarding the identity of the requester and their entitlement to the data requested. If in any doubt we will request confirmation of identity to ensure your personal data is not inadvertently released to a third party who is not entitled to it.

Given the School has limited staff resources outside of term time, we encourage parents/carers to submit Subject Access Requests during term time and to avoid sending a request during periods when the School is closed or is about to close for the holidays, where possible. This will assist us in responding to your request as promptly as possible.

If the SAR is complex or numerous, the period in which we must respond may be extended by a further two months. You will be notified of any delays in actioning the SAR and provided with a timeframe in which you can expect to receive the requested data.

Fees

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information (or to exercise any of your other data subject rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is manifestly unfounded or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.

For further information about how we handle Subject Access Requests, please see our Subject Access Request Policy and Procedure

Exercising Other Data Subject Rights

If you wish to review, verify, correct, or request the erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact the school in the first instance (details below).

The Right to Withdraw Consent

Where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, and there is no other applicable lawful basis for processing the data, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact the Headteacher (details below).

Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

How Government uses your data

The pupil data that we lawfully share with the DfE through data collections:

- underpins school funding, which is calculated based upon the numbers of children and their characteristics in each school.
- informs 'short term' education policy monitoring and school accountability and intervention (for example, school GCSE results or Pupil Progress measures).

- supports 'longer term' research and monitoring of educational policy (for example how certain subject choices go on to affect education or earnings beyond school)

Data collection requirements

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education (for example, via the school census) go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

Much of the data about pupils in England goes on to be held in the National Pupil Database (NPD).

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>

Sharing by the Department

The law allows the Department to share pupils' personal data with certain third parties, including:

- schools
- local authorities
- researchers
- organisations connected with promoting the education or wellbeing of children in England
- other government departments and agencies
- organisations fighting or identifying crime

For more information about the Department's NPD data sharing process, please visit:

<https://www.gov.uk/data-protection-how-we-collect-and-share-research-data>

Organisations fighting or identifying crime may use their legal powers to contact DfE to request access to individual level information relevant to detecting that crime. Whilst numbers fluctuate slightly over time, DfE typically supplies data on around 600 pupils per year to the Home Office and roughly 1 per year to the Police.

For information about which organisations the Department has provided pupil information, (and for which project) or to access a monthly breakdown of data share volumes with Home Office and the Police please visit the following website: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/dfe-external-data-shares>

How to find out what personal information DfE hold about you

Under the terms of the Data Protection Act 2018, you are entitled to ask the Department:

- if they are processing your personal data
- for a description of the data, they hold about you
- the reasons they're holding it and any recipient it may be disclosed to
- a copy of your personal data and any details of its source

If you want to see the personal data held about you by the Department, you should make a 'subject access request'. Further information on how to do this can be found within the Department's personal information charter that is published at the address below:
