NSPCC Workshops

On Thursday, we were pleased to welcome some NSPCC volunteers into school to deliver 'Speak out. Stay safe' workshops for our Year 2, Year 5 and Year 6 children. These friendly, age-appropriate sessions were designed to help children understand how to speak out if something worries them and identify trusted adults who can support them. The workshops encouraged open conversations about children's rights, keeping safe and sharing concerns. Our pupils were given the opportunity to listen, ask questions and take part in activities that make these important messages accessible and memorable.

Gladiator (Steel) visit

Today, we welcomed Gladiator Steel for an educational visit designed to engage pupils across the whole school. It was an exciting opportunity for children to meet a real Gladiator and discover more about life as a professional athlete and television personality.

The visit began with a very exciting whole-school assembly, where Steel talked about what it is like to be a Gladiator. Pupils listened carefully as he shared insights into his experiences and answered questions from across the school.

Following the assembly, class visits took place in every class. Pupils were able to learn more about how Steel became a Gladiator and asked questions to develop their understanding. These smaller sessions gave children the chance to speak directly with Steel and find out more about the commitment, training and determination involved in becoming a Gladiator. It was a memorable visit that gave pupils plenty to discuss and reflect on throughout the day.

Friendly reminder about parking

When collecting children from the school, please remember to park safely and considerately. Taking a few extra moments to choose a suitable space can help everyone move around safely and calmly.

Please avoid blocking driveways, entrances, pavements or access points, and take care not to obstruct local residents. We know that collection time can be busy, but parking thoughtfully makes a real difference to those living nearby.

Thank you for respecting our neighbours and local community.

Use of devices and mobile phones

As a friendly reminder, please monitor your child's use of phones and devices regularly. Taking an interest in what they are doing online can help keep conversations open and support their online safety. Remind them that phones and devices should be used appropriately and respectfully, both at home and when communicating with others. Thank you for your continued support with keeping children safe online.
