AN INTRODUCTION FROM ANNA MASON

An introduction from Anna Mason

06 July 2026

Dear parents and carers,

I am writing to introduce myself as the Interim Executive Headteacher of Andoversford Primary School from September. It is a privilege to take on this role and to become part of the Andoversford school community. Throughout my career, I have taught in and led small rural primary schools across the Cotswolds for over 20 years. This experience has given me a deep appreciation of the important role village schools play at the heart of their communities, and I am looking forward to working closely with our pupils, staff, families and governors to build on the many strengths of the school and to ensure that every child continues to receive a high-quality education in a nurturing and supportive environment.

As Interim Executive Headteacher, I will be working alongside the staff team to support continued school improvement and positive outcomes for all pupils. To strengthen the leadership structure within the school, I am pleased to confirm that Annabelle Warren will be taking on the role of Operational Lead Teacher. Annabelle will play a key role in the day-to-day leadership of the school, supporting staff, pupils and families, and helping to ensure the smooth running of daily school life. I am delighted to be working closely with her and know that her knowledge of the school and commitment to the children will be a great asset.

I firmly believe that strong partnerships between home and school are vital to children's success. I will be in school on Thursday 9th when the children will be on their transition afternoon. I look forward to meeting some of you then. I will make sure there are other scheduled opportunities to meet with families in September.

Best wishes,

Mrs Anna Mason
