

Dear Families and Friends,

Highlights of the week:

Pre-School: Enjoying our new sensory tiles (amongst other things!) which the PTFA have kindly bought for us & trying different world foods.

YR: Challenging ourselves to make numbers in different ways!

Y1/2: Guessing who our classmates are by looking at their baby/toddler photos during our PSHE lesson.

Y2/3: Sports day practise during outdoor learning.

Y4: Learning all about benchball with Mr Wright, and our lunchtime Art Club!

Y5: Creating our own stories from 'How the Whale Became' by Ted Hughes.

Y6: Enjoying playing 'Footnet' with Mr Troman.

Thank you to all the parents and carers who have joined one of our meetings about our Ofsted and what's next. As promised, we will share what was discussed with everyone early next week – look out for an email.

A couple of reminders -arriving either too early, or too late is going to cause a problem for your child. Some children are arriving at school at 8.30am, we don't open the gates until 8.45am, please make sure your child doesn't arrive too early – or make use of our Breakfast Club for those 15 minutes at a cost of £2 a day. School lessons START at 8.50am. This means your child should be in class, seated, ready to start at that time. We are noticing increasing amounts of late arrivals again, which takes up precious staff time and means your child walks into the classroom after everyone else has started learning, thereby disrupting the class. Please try setting the alarm clock 10 minutes earlier, and make sure you are always punctual to set the example. Thank you!

PTFA News Next Friday it's non-uniform day for everyone, in exchange for a jazzy jar! You should have received a flyer by email with details of this – we are also looking for donations for the raffle, stalls and tombola. Please bring along anything you are able to give (and please, only if you are able) next Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday and someone will be in the playground to accept things. Please do not bring pre-loved uniform though – we have stacks to get through already!

It's Exmouth Pride this weekend, The Beacon fully supports Exmouth Pride's important messages of celebrating LGBTQ+ diversity, promoting inclusivity and raising awareness of the challenges still faced by this community. Our school vision for living life in all its fullness (John 10:10) is for everyone. If you're attending, enjoy the event.

We wish you all a peaceful weekend,
Mrs Anne Billington
